The Challenge

4D Interactive, a UK-based telephony specialist, needed a robust load balancing solution to keep their apps and web hosting services running 24/7.

Their existing setup using Microsoft NLB created traffic bottlenecks and operational headaches. With uptime critical to their business, they had to find a smarter, feature-rich, and affordable alternative that could scale effortlessly.

The Solution

- Seamlessly moved services between data centres without downtime
- Gained web acceleration, compression, and SSL offload capabilities out of the box
- Delivered smooth updates and maintenance windows, customers never noticed a thing
- Improved overall website and app performance

The Results

Reliability they can count on.

- Continuous uptime for apps and websites, critical for their 24/7 operations
- No customer disruption during upgrades and maintenance
- Improved performance across hosted services
- Cost-effective and feature-rich, outshining alternatives that charged more but delivered less

Why Edgenexus

After comparing alternative solutions, Edgenexus was the clear winner, delivering unmatched value, rich features, and reliable performance at a fraction of the cost.

Favourite Feature

Yes, the load balancer rocks. But for 4D, the stand-out feature is the team behind it. Edgenexus support is fast, responsive, and deeply knowledgeable, a true extension of their IT department.
